

Bude Nathan Iwanier LLP

LEADING LONDON PROPERTY LAW FIRM

MOVES WITH THE TIMES

London-based solicitors Bude Nathan Iwanier LLP is one of the capital's leading law firms. It provides legal services to corporate UK, international and entrepreneurial clients, advising on property, commercial real estate, corporate litigation and working with private clients. The firm also offers specialisms in landlord and tenant litigation and commercial litigation, and advises on a variety of commercial transactions, including sale and purchase of portfolio and investment properties, for a varied clientele.

THE CHALLENGE

The practice works with a range of clients, often outside the office and on location around the city. This remote working had put particular strain on its analogue system, which was still relying on recordings and transcriptions made from tapes in real time. This was proving to be a drain on resources and impacting on the efficiency of the whole team. The need for more connectivity and efficiency, as well as more fee earners desiring to work remotely resulted in the company investing in a timely upgrade.

“The SpeechWrite team has been very helpful, both at the implementation stage and beyond...”

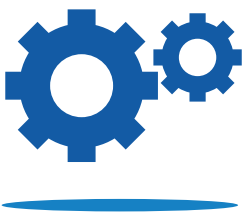

THE SOLUTION

Digital dictation specialists SpeechWrite Digital demonstrated to Bude Nathan Iwanier how a digital solution could streamline its business, resulting in real-time savings and freeing up desk space and staff. The law practice wanted the transition from analogue to digital to be as smooth as possible, allowing the new system to merge into existing work practices naturally. The solution deployed was SpeechWrite Pro Digital Dictation with seven fee earners also using SpeechWrite Voice Recognition.

Voice Recognition is the ideal solution for reducing legal transcription costs and reliance on support staff while dramatically speeding document turnaround for improved client service, a key benefit found with Bude Nathan Iwanier.

The practice specified Portable Digital PocketMemos and SpeechMikes with the system, resulting in the staff being able to work in the same format and allowing easy remote connectivity throughout the company.

File sizes and recording lengths are now easily identifiable, without the need to run and time an entire tape. The new technology integrated well into the firm, was simple to use and straightforward to install. Having heard of the advantages from SpeechWrite, it didn't take long before the staff were fully conversant with the system and were reaping its benefits first-hand.

“ The SpeechWrite team has been very helpful, both at the implementation stage and beyond. They identified where and how we could improve the dictation and transcription side of our business and the best products for us to do this. Going digital made a lot of sense to us. With a growing amount of our work being carried out remotely, the more we can do digitally, the easier it is to share data and access it – wherever and whenever it's required. ”
