Having been established now for 30 years, the company delivers solutions for occupiers, owners, developers and property companies. KWB is the leading independent firm of commercial property agents for offices and industrial units in Birmingham, Black Country, Solihull and West Midlands.

THE CHALLENGE

KWB were using an out-dated dictation solution that was fast becoming obsolete. The incumbent system was not designed for mobile working with authors having to wait until they got home or in the office to dock dictation work, allowing them to send documents to the admin team for transcription.

The firm wanted a new future proofed solution that would be designed for mobile and remote working allowing for a quicker and more streamlined documentation process.

Joanne Spencer, Office Manager said “an important consideration of the new system was the ability for our Property Managers to work remotely. Creating a solution that would allow them to work anywhere at anytime; responsiveness to clients is paramount in the industry we work in.”
